We'll read some truly old school comics, as in the founder of "Graphic Fiction," Will Eisner. We'll also look into Scott McCloud's Understanding Comics to help us understand some classic superhero comics as well as more serious literary comics such as Maus and Fun Home. This course satisfies the General Education requirement for "Foundations of the Arts and Humanities: Literary and Cultural Analysis."

Students will have to supply their own bubble gum and soft drinks, but I'll bring the candy
